Miss A. W. Weston

Weymouth

Massachusetts

24

M. A. 9.2.28.23

Aug 15.

This note was to go by Mr W. W. Brown & should have contained one from Mrs Maxcie & one from Mrs Stanstead, but as Mr B. is departure is put off for a fortnight I enclose the note & time in order to see them.

Bakewell
Derbyshire 15. 8mo
1854

What can I say to disarm my dear friend of the idea of want of sympathy in her pure maternal joy, but I can assure thee that and all time had a full share in our congratulations in your happiness - and still how vexed I have felt myself I cannot describe that this "unable to write at the time I received thine from various causes, I had not employed some one to do it for me, and to have proposed your dear young Bride & Bridegroom should have made England their bedding tour and paid us a visit. The need

Swarthmore MSS. 4.9.22.p.23

Crystal Palace so unlike I am told to its predecessor might have been an attraction for them, I do hope they are well, and that the dear Girl may find herself among the privileged in her new life - You will miss her much, I should fear and her dear young Sister specially - I shall send this to your friend Eslin bearing you have left Paris - My hands are swelled & painful I can scarce hold the pen - change of air I hope may do something, but the near com-pletion of my 71st year forbids all hope of being fit for exertion much longer

Sir, with what pleasure should I hail the news ere I am called to depart, that America had risen anew from the cruel bias in which too[illegible] of her Citizens have been indulging themselves, in favour of Slavery. I do hope from the reports in the Anti Slavery Standard a brighter day is dawning on your beloved Country a purer spirit rising – I hope to collect again this year, and send by dear Miss Haspre I can get no more beautiful silvered glass. it did not take well enough & the Manufacture is discontinued. I was so sorry the Box was so late as I had hoped long before it was sent off and gone, Do write me a few lines as I shall want to hear of you & do will my dear Brother. A young Man David Livingstone has visited Africa where it is not known any one has been before I hope to hear some interesting particulars from him when he comes to England He is

Mrs. M. Chapman

What a bold act that of W L Garrisons the other day burning the laws of the Constitution. it must have had a great effect we think. How indefatigable is this dear Sister The report was so well drawn. Are you really going to return to America no doubt they found mothers heart longs to see her dear Boy. I can fancy his

MS. A.9.2.28, p. 23